Last Supper – Parodies

There's nothing like a couple thousand years of repetition and an iconic painting to get story to get lodged inside the heads of the creators of pop culture. Leonardo da Vinci's 15th century depiction of Jesus announcing that one of his 12 disciples would betray him is so ingrained in our culture that it has been co-opted by those wishing to give weight to their parodies, tributes and caricatures.

Here are just a few of the many works of art [the cool ones]:

Sopranos Last Supper -

Famed celebrity photographer Annie Leibowitz captured The Sopranos Jesus Christ pose in 1999, with Tony as the central figure in this mob of disciples and his treacherous mother Livia as Judas. Who will take on that role as the series wraps up?

I'm going to be investing my time in feeding this leisurely Blog with inspired things (from New Zealand and Abroad) you never knew you wanted to know. So check back here on a regular basis okey-day!
